Born in Kowdoor village, in Karkala on June 16, 1909, KOWDOOR SADANANDA HEGDE had his early education at Karkala and Mangalore.

Thereafter, he pursued his collegiate education in Madras at Presidency College and got his BA in Economics and later, a Degree in Law from Government Law College.

He began his legal practice at Karkala in 1936 and later moved to Mangalore, where he was appointed public Prosecutor of South Canara District in 1948. He was elected Member of the First Council of States (now known as the Rajya Sabha). In 1954, he represented India at the first General Assembly of the United Nations. He then became a Judge of the Mysore High Court. In 1966, he was appointed as the first Chief Justice of the Delhi and Himachal Pradesh High Court.

He held this office till he was elected to the post of the Judge of the Supreme Court of India in 1967. He resigned this office in 1973, in protest against the supersession of Senior Judge in the appointment of the Chief Justice of India.

In 1977, Justice K. S. Hegde was elected to the Lok Sabha. He held this office till 1980. After a distinguished career, he retired from Public life and settled in Nitte only to relentlessly work for the upliftment and empowerment of the rural people. Justice K.S. Hegde breathed his last on May 25, 1990.
I am glad to know that the School is publishing the 26th edition of its annual magazine BLOSSOMS. The School has grown both in stature as well as in fame. This is largely due to the committed hard work of the staff. I appreciate their sincere efforts. The School has embarked upon starting the senior secondary section and I am sure it will be a success. Many academic and extracurricular activities have been conducted during the year in passing and an annual magazine documents these so that the outside world comes to know about this. I am sure that the magazine would be colourful and a reader’s delight. Let me congratulate the editorial team in advance for this.

With All best Wishes

From the Principal’s Desk ....

Dear Reader,

Greetings to you!!!

This is a time of great changes. In education too we see fast changes. The student today is an individual, is a real person with feelings of self-respect, sensitivity, responsibility and compassion. We need to recognize, appreciate, applaud and foster the fine blend of sensibilities in a child – and thus this School Magazine is to be viewed as a launch pad for the children’s creative urges to blossom naturally. As the saying goes - “Mind like parachute works best when opened.” This humble initiative is to set the budding minds free allowing them to roam free in the realm of imagination and experience to create a world of beauty in words.

Very few have fully realised the wealth of sympathy, kindness and generosity hidden in the soul of a child. The efforts of every educator should be to unlock that treasure. NSAM CBSE is an excellent example where everyone strives indefatigably for this. This school has been nurturing young minds for the past 26 years with the belief that, “The Heart of Education is the Education of the Heart.”

This school attains its eminence in the first place through the achievement of its children. This has been given enough print space in the 2014.15 Blossoms. This Magazine also espouses the School spirit which is built up within the school through the collective actions, thoughts and aspirations. All these, I believe would spur higher growth and enterprise in children.

We are pleased to present to you our 2014-15 BLOSSOMS. Enjoy every moment you have because in life there aren’t rewinds only flashbacks. We and our students have worked hard to bring an exhilarating flashback of the Events and Achievements during the 2014-15 session. We also have a range of poetry, riddles, art work and some informative and inspirational articles.

My thanks are due to the co-editors - Mrs. Priya Shetty and Mrs. Sujatha S, students and other teachers who have been of immense help in breathing life into these pages.

Good Luck.

Co-Editors Message...

We are delighted to present before you our Annual School Magazine “Blossoms 2014-15”.

The fast changing world has set new standards for success based on ever increasing quest for knowledge and excellence with pragmatic mindset. We aim to provide continuous and comprehensive evaluation education with state of art facilities for the holistic development and all round growth of the child. Innovative and experimental teaching makes the learning process an enlightening one, sparkling as it does with the curiosity of the child.

The school magazine is a historical document of the growth of the school. It informs the future generations of students about the traditions built up in their school. This valuable Publication is the opportunity that students require to show their creative talents.

This annual magazine is a mirror view of the scenario at NSAM and it showcases the creative talents which abound in the students. Portal of knowledge celebrates bright students with good results geared towards improvement and development.

We appreciate and congratulate our budding writers and artists for their contribution to this magazine.

We thank our Principal who has left no stone unturned in creating such a well-organized magazine. We also thank all the concerned in bringing out this magazine.

“And the day came when the risk to remain tight in a bud was more painful than the risk it took to Blossom”.

“We must remember that one determined person can make a significant difference, and a small group of determined people can change the course of history.” - Sonia Johnson. The growth of the Nitte CBSE School is one such story, with Justice K.S. Hegde feeling the need to start a good English Medium School in this village and the Chancellor of Nitte University, Sri N. Vinaya Hegde spearheading its growth over several years, with the support of all staff. We salute our dynamic President on his 75th Birthday and pray to God to shower his choicest Blessings and grant him good health to continue to be our boss and mentor.

I, Anna Shanthi D’souza is given the privilege of presenting the Annual Report prepared by our Principal Mrs. Neeta Kishore.

Dr. Nitte Shankara Adyanthaya Eng Med. High School took its roots, 26 years ago in 1989. Initially it was affiliated to the Karnataka State Board, and in 2007 switched over to the CBSE Stream. Today we have grown to a student strength of 582 and 30 Staff, an increase of 40 students from the previous year. The good performance of students and the dedicated staff and supportive parents are responsible for the school evolving into a name to reckon with, year after year.

The 100% Board Exam Results of the 2013.14 AISSE Batch gave us immense joy. Out of the 38 that appeared, 22 passed with distinction, 14 secured first class and 2 trailed with a second class. To top the good results, seven students bagged the CBSE’s National Certificate for getting a full 10 CGPA.

Let me begin with the very last function of 2013.14, the Awards Function which gets missed out in our reports because it is held in April each year. This occasion felicitates students with Endowment Awards for excelling in Academics, Literary, Cultural, Sports and Games of that academic year itself. It was celebrated with a great air of dignity and decorum, which made the awardees feel proud of their achievement. Ashwin Bhat, Anjali Venugopal and Megha Kamath, the AISSE toppers of 2012.13 along with their parents did the honours of giving away the Awards.

Endowment Awards worth Rs. 4.85 lacs was disbursed on that day and the Annual Day in November.

Sanketh G.B, Y.S. Suhas and B.Prachi Shenoy were the recipients of the 10 day long Computer Training at Infosys, M’lore, by virtue of excelling in their entrance examination.

The Silver Jubilee Project of increasing Library Space and revamping its furniture is completed at a cost of almost 4 lacs. 15 more computers have been added to increase the number of systems to 40 in our Computer Lab., at a cost of Rs.2.5 lacs.

The recent report on crimes against children is a very disturbing issue. Parents and Teachers need to educate our children about Self Protection and Safety measures. We have educated our Primary students through videos. Older students had an orientation on POCSO – ‘Prevention of Children from Sexual Offences’ by Dr. Sathish Nayak, from Rotary Hospital and Ms. Arabhi Rao, a councillor, who are members of the Karkala Task Force of POCSO. Girls of VI to X were given practical training on Self Protection by Karthik S Kateel. Eight CCTV Cameras have been fitted in prime locations of the school, as mandated by the Karnataka Govt.

In June 2014, the school has applied for up gradation to Senior Secondary. We will begin Plus 2 of the CBSE from 2015, in the Commerce Stream initially, and try to integrate CPT, which will help CA aspirants. We request our parents to propagate this information amongst their friends, neighbours and relatives.

ACTIVITIES and ACHIEVEMENTS:

- 2014.15 began with the PTA Orientation for parents. Mrs. Jyothi Mahadev, a Fitness Trainer and Hypno Therapist addressed the parents on good parent-child relationship. She made it interesting by giving some practical tips. She also conducted a workshop on Phobias, Concentration, Time and Stress Management for High School students.

- ‘Sensitization for Tackling Tobacco Epidemics’ was conducted by Prof. Dr. Vaman Rao, H.O.D of Bio Technology, NMAMIT. Students of Class VIII to X were administered a pledge- promising to abstain from Tobacco and its products.

- Eastan Saldanha of class VIII was one amongst the 27 Basketball Players to be chosen for rigorous Training and Shortlisting for the National Level Basketball Tournament. CHILDHOOD THOUGHTS

Going to school in rain was a thrill,
Soaking wet was the frock’s chill,
Rhymes and games at school was fun,
Now and then we would have a bun!

Getting a birthday treat made our day,
Suffering tooth ache, stomach ache every way,
The colours of crayons fascinated us,

Preferred a window seat in the bus!

Stone-paper-scissor a common game,
First to complete stones gained fame,
All young girls wanted to be teachers,
And all boys wished to be a driver!

Long ago, there lived a huge apple tree offering tasty apples to the people. A little boy became close friends with the apple tree. The boy used to play with the tree, climb the branches, rest under the shadows, pluck apples, etc. Every day, he visited the tree, and ate apples. The apple tree was ever kind to the boy and enjoyed spending time with the little boy.

The boy joined school and could not spend any time with the apple tree. After several months, the boy came to the apple tree. The tree was so happy to see the boy and asked him to play with it.

The boy said that he was not a little one to play with the tree. But he had another request to the tree. The tree asked what he wanted.

The boy said that he needed toys to play, but his parents did not have sufficient money to buy toys for him. The tree replied, "Dear boy, I do not have any money to buy toys for you, but you can pick the apples, sell them, get money, and buy toys for you." The apple tree was eagerly waiting to see the boy return. The boy went happily picking apples, but never returned for several years. The tree was so sad and did not produce any apples.

After almost 10 years, the boy returned to the apple tree and said, "Youngster, the apple tree immediately recognized the boy and was happy to see him. The tree asked him to play again. The boy said, "I'm sorry. I don't have the time to play with you as I have to work. We are building a new home and need some wood for it. Can you please help me?" The apple tree replied, "Oh, my dear boy, please cut my branches and get the needed quantity of wood as much as you want!" The boy started to cut the branches of the tree, left the place. After several years, the boy returned as a middle-aged man to the tree. The tree, which was waiting for him to come, was quite excited. The apple tree asked, "Can you play with me now?" The boy, who was now a middle-aged man, replied, "I am old and now I want to relax myself from heavy work. I need a boat to sail to various places. Can you help me?"
The apple tree replied, "Oh my dear boy, I don't have a boat for you, but you can cut my trunk and make a boat.

The man cut the trunk of the tree and made the boat. He happily sailed to various places, but never returned to the tree again, which now has only the roots! After two decades, the boy returned to the tree as an old man. The tree recognized him and said, "Oh my dear boy, now I have nothing to give you!"

The old man said, "I just need rest, just give me a place!". The apple tree "Come my dear, take rest in my roots! the old roots are the best place to have peace and rest!" The man smiled with tears.

THE CAPSELLER

On a hot summer day a capseller was sleeping under a tree. The monkey playing on the tree came down and opened the capseller's bundle. When he was away, the monkeys took away the cafe. The capseller got up and saw the monkeys on the tree with the cafe on their heads. He shouted at the monkeys in vain. Then the clever capseller took his cafe and threw it at the monkeys. Seeing this, all the monkeys threw their cafes at the capseller. He picked up the cafe and went on his way happily.

The wolf and the crane

One day a hungry wolf found a big dead animal. He at once jumped upon it and began eating hurriedly. The wolf was in such a hurry that while eating a bone got stuck in his throat. The wolf tried hard to bring the bone out but failed miserably. The greedy wolf even tried to swallow the bone to continue eating, but didn’t succeed.

At last, he went to a crane that lived by the river. The wolf said to the crane. “A bone has stuck in my throat while eating.
Please extract it out with the help of your long neck and beak; you will be well paid for this obligation.”

The crane agreed. He inserted his long beak inside the wide open mouth of the wolf. The crane’s long neck helped him in reaching down the throat and pulling the bone out.

After accomplishing the work successfully, the crane said, “Now pay for my service!”

The cunning wolf laughed. “Payment for your service! You thank me for allowing you to bring out your head safely from my mouth.”

THE FROG AND THE OX

A frog decided to become as big as an ox.
So it began to breathe in and in and every time it swallowed more air, it did in fact become bigger.
But it soon began to tire of its efforts.

Am I big enough yet?

it asked hopefully of its many watching companions.
Then they had another look at the ox and shook their heads "No a bit More!"

So the ambitious frog kept on puffing itself up and up until it burst like a balloon.

TWO BOYS

Two boys were playing together. One boy saw a nut mango on the ground. Before he could pick it, the other boy took it.

The first boy demanded: "Give me the nut. It's mine. I saw it first."

The second boy replied: "It's mine. I only took it." This led to a quarrel between these two boys. Just then, another boy came that way.

Upon seeing the quarrel between the boys, he said: "Give me the nut and I'll settle your quarrel."

He split the nut into two parts. He took out the fruit - shell. He gave one half - shell to one boy and the other half - shell to the other boy.

He then put the fruit back into his mouth and said: "This is for settling your quarrel."

The Little Boy & the Balloon

Nam: Angel
Class: 1

There was a man who used to make a living by selling balloons at a fair. He had all colours of balloons, including red, yellow, blue and green. Whenever business was slow he would release a helium-filled balloon into the air and then children would come up to him and buy balloons and his sales would go up again. He continued this process all day. One day he felt someone tugging at his jacket. He turned around and saw a little boy who asked, “If you release a black balloon will that also fly? Moved by the boy’s concern, the man replied with empathy, “Sure, it is not the colour of the balloon it is what is inside that makes it go up.”
Joys and Sorrows of flying Kite

Last morning
I took my kite
As I waved it up
It began its flight.

Suddenly at that times
A bird passed by
As it got stuck in the string
It began to cry

And then it fell
On the street
It still tried to fly
With its bleeding feet.

And then I learnt
That I took its life
And I vowed
Never again will I fly a kite.

The temple has a lot painting of Gods and Goddesses. Afterwards we sat on the temple platform and the musicians started to play the music. Then we came out of the temple and we had our lunch. The lunch was very tasty. After our lunch we saw some cows and calves in Nandgokula Goshala. The most attractive part in the temple was the elephant. We offered some coins and got the elephant’s blessings in return with its trunk. The temple has a very big statue of Lord Hanuman. Then I and my friends played some games. Then we headed back to the bus. Around 3:15 p.m we reached back to school. It was a very lovely day and we enjoyed thoroughly.

SIMPLE TIPS OF GOOD MANNERS

Good manners are important. A bad - mannered person is no better than beast. People send their children to good schools so that they become well mannered. Good manners win love and respect. Good manners mean that we should be good to others by our action or speech. A man is judged by his behaviour. Good manners should be acquired and cultivated. We should always observe good manners. We should be courteous and polite. We should thank for the service done to us. While talking to others, allow others to speak. We should see that others do not feel bored with our talk. Never put a finger into your nose or ear while talking. Consideration for old, sick, woman and children is important. When travelling we should try to accommodate others. We should help the old, the sick and the blind to cross the road. Plucking flowers in the public park is a bad manner. Avoid talking in a library. When sneezing out your handkerchief on your nose and say ‘sorry’. Good manners create friendship and good will.

Grishma Ritu in summer, the hot season it falls approximately in June and July. Most of the Indian people are farmers and they depend upon nature and the changing seasons to grow their crops. Therefore, in India, seasons have a special meaning and our festival celebrations are linked to different seasons.

The most important festival in summer is the Rath Patra or the car festival. This is celebrated in Puri, Orissa very year. The story goes that king Indraumna wanted to build a temple of Vishnu. He asked Vishvakarma, the architect of the Gods, to build the temple. Vishvakarma agreed on the condition that no one would be allowed to see him at work. However, the King could not hold back his curiosity and went to see the architect. Vishvakarma became angry and went away without completing his work and thus the images in the temple were left without hands or feet. The king begged to be forgiven, but vishvakarma did not listen. However, Lord Brahma came to his rescue and breathed life into the limbless images. These are the images that are worshipped even today.

On the day of the Rath Yatra, the deity Jagannath, his brother Balaram and sister Subhadra are placed in huge chariots or raths. These raths are pulled by hundreds of devotees from the main temple to another called the Gundicha Mandir. Here they rest for seven days and then return to their own temple.

The year 1996 was a special year for the Rath Yatra, for the three idols were newly made. This event is called Nabakalebar or the symbolic death and rebirth of Lord Jagannath and is held every 12 years. The new idols are made from the wood or selected neem trees.

Nowhere in the world do so many people gather to see such a gigantic event. The people also take turns at pulling the raths.

The English word ‘Juggernaut’ meaning a large heavy truck or an object that crushes whatever is in the path, actually came from the name ‘Jagannath’ and the event of the huge car procession in Puri.

As Precious as Salt

Once there lived an arrogant king, who had three daughters. He asked how much they loved him.

The first daughter said she loved him like the ocean. The second daughter like the sky. The king was delighted. The third daughter however, said "I love you like salt". The king was so annoyed, that he married her to a poor man.

Years later the poor man, by his hard work, became a rich merchant. One day the third daughter and her husband invited the king home, without revealing their identity. She cooked dinner without salt. As he ate, the king grew angry that no salt was used.

Then the daughter revealed who she was, saying “now you see, why I love you like salt”? The king embraced his daughter.

भारत की सबसे पवित्र माने जाने वाली नदियों में से गंगा को प्रदूषण मुक्त के लिए स्वच्छ गंगा अभियान नामक के गैर सरकारी संगठन ने लंदन स्थित एक संगठन से समझौता करने की योजना बनाई है। करीब छः हज़ार किलोमीटर लंबी गंगा नदी भारत के कई राज्यों से होकर बहती है। गंगा के किनारे ऐसे कई स्थान हैं जहाँ डबकी लगाने दूर - दराज के इलाकों से लग आते हैं। लेकिन वहाँ प्रदूषण का स्तर मनुष्यों के सुरक्षित समझे जाने वाले स्तर से तीन हज़ार गुना अधिक है। गंगा के प्रदूषण की सबसे बड़ी वजह उसमें गिरने वाले गंदगी के नाले हैं। गंगा की इसी दशा को देखकर मशहूर वकील और मैगसेस्पुरस्कार विजेता एम सी. मेहता ने १९८६ में गंगा के किनारे लगे कारखानों और शहरों से निकलने वाली गंदगी को रोकने के लिए सुप्रीम कोर्ट में अपील दायर की थी। फिर सरकार ने गंगा सफाई का बीड़ा उठाया और गंगा एक्शन प्लान की शुरुआत हुई। इस योजना की बदौलत गंगा के किनारे बसे शहरों और कारखानों में गंदे और जहरीले पानी को साफ करने के लिए फॉल्ट लगाए गए। स्वच्छ गंगा अभियान वाराणसी तथा समीपवर्ती स्थानों में गंगा को साफ करने के लिए एक तस्त के सुरक्षित तरीका है। यह तरीका विजली पर निर्भर नहीं है।

इसमें कूड-करकट को गुरुवर्तकर्षण का सहरा लेकर एक बड़े कुंड में जमा कर लिया जाता है जहाँ जैविक तरीके में इसकी सफाई होती है। नदियों को प्रदूषण मुक्त रखने का दायित्व हम सबका है।

Heema and the Monkey

Heema, the queen of jungles was very fond of babies. Once, she announced, “I order all animals to come to my palace with their babies”. The animal who has the most beautiful baby will be rewarded.

All animals came to Heema’s Palace with their babies. Heema started inspecting them one by one. She came to monkey and said “what an ugly baby”! You will not get any reward. Baby monkey started to cry. Monkey said “what a foolish queen she is! Who wants her reward, you are my gem, my dear child. You are precious than anything in this world.

Discipline

Discipline is the implicit obedience to the commands of a superior authority and acceptance with a smile of punishment awarded for breach thereof. If there is no discipline in our life there will be anarchy. Life will be disorderly. There will be no plan. No one’s action will be related to other so that nothing reaches its logical conclusion. The life of bees in a hive is a model of disciplined life.

The home is the beginning centre where we receive our first lesson of discipline through obedience to parents and elders. As we pass out of the nursery and enter the portals of educational institutions, discipline becomes a matter of vital importance. That is because student’s life is a period of preparation for the battle of real future life.

In society also there is a greater need for discipline. Its individual members are permitted to do whatever they like, society will break up and the onward march of civilization and progress will be arrested. Lack of discipline among the youth of country may endanger national security.

Some people call the Mahabharatha and the Ramayana as Mythological works. Not some but most of the people call them as Mythological works, without knowing properly what they are saying. “Mythology” means “Myth” “ology”, which means something which is a myth and which is not true. Mahabharatha and Ramayana are not mythological works. They are ancient historical works. The English told us that they are mythological! What a move by the English! They made us speak from our own mouth that our historical works are just myth!

India was the richest country in the world in matters of knowledge and science. People from other nations came to know of this and became jealous of the wealth of India. This was the reason for the invasion of India by various countries, in which the British started ruling India and brought almost the whole India under their district control. They came to India and saw the rich culture of India, they saw a rich touching the feet of a poor man. This made them realise that they could not control India if they do not suppress our culture. For this, the only way was to change our education system and teach English culture to the children of India. They introduced English education system and completely taught people their views. The history books that we are reading now in our schools are 90% false information, influenced by the British. They did not want to accept that our culture, our science, our language was better than theirs,

This resulted in changing the information on history into Mythology.

A child without education, is like a bird without wings.

- Tibetan proverb
All of us have needs. We have needs that we cannot survive without, like air and water and we also need things that are not actually needed for survival, like luxury.

Long age, on the outskirts of a village lived a sage and his disciples. They lived an austere life without pleasure. All they possessed was a begging bowl and two loin cloths each. Except these things, the hut was bare.

One day it so happened that the sage had to go for a pilgrimage leaving the hermitage in his disciple’s care, he set out for his destination.

For the first time or so, the disciple lived as his master had told him to. He begged for food, meditated and looked after the hermitage. One day, he set his spare loin cloth out to dry and left to beg for food in the afternoon. When he returned with a food, he saw that the rats had torn his loin cloth to shreds!

Rushing back to the village, he begged for a new loin cloth and a kind hearted merchant gave it to him. This time, the disciple set the loin cloth to dry on the thatched roof of his hut. But this time too, the rats tore his loin cloth.

Thinking over what to do, the disciple thought “Let me get a cat, it will chase away the wicked rats.” And so, in due course time, a cat was brought to the hermitage. But now, the disciple was very worried. To nourish his cat, he needed milk. From where would he get that?

As he worried over this problem, he got the solution, and in some time, he bought a cow! This time, a new worry sprung up. Where would he get the folder for his cow he thought, and forgot all about his sagely life as he began to get involved in worldly matters.

Climbing up on the roof of his hut, he looked around. The land looked good enough for cultivating. After getting a bag of seeds from a kind landlord of the village, he set about planting them and watering them. In some time, he got a large amount of fodder that kept his cow well and healthy. But now a new trouble came to light. There was a huge amount of grain left over. He would have to store them somewhere, but where?

Bringing in a few masons to his service, he ordered a granary to be built. Soon he had a granary full of grains in the compound of his fast developing hermitage, and it was no more a hermitage now! Knowing that he cannot do anything with such huge amounts of grain he thought, “Let me enter the business of selling and buying grain,” and soon, he was striking deals with other merchants and earning handsome profits. Alongside this, he also started a dairy business as the cow was yielding excess milk. The disciple, one day thought, “I am becoming a man of riches. My single cow has become, I have a lot of money, and just look at my hut!” and in no time, the hut was demolished and a sprawling bungalow come instead!

Seeing his prosperity, a rich man came forward and offered him the hand of his beautiful daughter in marriage. Soon the disciple was married and had a daughter and son too. By this time, the disciple's master returned from his pilgrimage. He was shocked when he saw the huge bungalow and opulence of the place he was in, he thought, “oh! Some rich man has driven away my disciple and has settled here! my poor disciple!”

At that very moment, the disciple himself saw his master and fell at his feet and said, “Forgive me master! His all began because of a few rats tormenting me. Then I got a cat, and then a cow, and it was never-ending! Please forgive me!”

The master stood dumbstruck and thought, “Really, our needs can change our whole life!”

HOW DOES THE BRAIN STORE INFORMATION

Storing information is remembering and remembering is closely linked to learning.

Psychologists have tried to explain how people remember and why they forget many of the things they learn. No one has yet found all the answers. It is believed, according to one theory, that when a person learns something, a physical change of some kind takes place that memories, or the traces memory may leave in the brain, simply fade away in course of time.

The way you feel about a particular experience also determines whether you remember or forget it. In general, people are apt to forget things that are unpleasant or upsetting and remember things that are pleasant.

Brains can learn different kinds of tasks. Better-developed brains can learn more complicated tasks. In the simplest brains, learning is very crude. Humans show the greatest learning abilities.

But how and where does the brain store the information that we call memory? As we said, scientists are not yet able fully to explain it. In the human brain, areas of the cortex appear to be involved. The cortex is twisted, wrinkled and knotted surface of the largest part of the brain (the cerebrum).

When these areas are excited by weak electrical currents, a person “relives” past experiences. These stimuli force the brain to reproduce experiences that are stored within it form the past. And it is known that injury to certain part of the brain will result in loss of memory.

But are these the places in the brain where the information is stored? We don’t know. Nor do we know how the information is stored. Some scientists think that storing information is chemical process – the individual nerve cells have chemical coded information within them. Other scientists believe that memory is the result of some permanent change in the structure of the nerve. So memory is still a mystery!
Today was the most exhilarating moment in my life! I went for scuba diving and it was a magical hour in the deep ocean. I had a bubbling sensation in my tummy the whole morning and I could almost hear my teeth chattering by the mere thought of going into the sea.

At around 9 am, I and mom went to the Diving organization (Dive India). Then, after a simple breakfast of bread, butter and honey, I took leave of my mother and joined my fellow Dive-mates.

Our instructor arrived and we all climbed into a tiny motor boat which took us to the dive site (Nemo Reef). My legs were shaking at the thought of jumping into the warm water. The sea life was visible from the surface it looked as if, when we put out our leg in water, it would touch the bottom, but quite shockingly, it was 12 metres deep! So crystal clear was the water, that it made my stomach churn at the thought that we were floating on a boat above a different sphere of life, as yet unknown to me.

Then came the big moment before I knew it, I was in my diving suit with my equipment and there was a rush of water over my head.

The seascape which displayed itself in front of me, felt quite surreal. I was feeling weightless in the water. Everywhere I saw, through my mask I could see nothing but vivid colours, ever moving, never resting. When I looked up, I saw the shimmering light of the sun.

As we floated around, (diving isn’t much except letting your limbs free and keeping your instructor in sight) we saw an octopus, parrot fish, a school of clown fish, starfish, titan fish and tiger fish. The plants were of all colors, pink, blue red, orange and so on.

Alas, it was only for an hour and with regret and reluctance we surfaced back up.

My diving in the Andamans taught me that the most beautiful sphere on the earth, is not land or air, but definitely according to me, water…….

Music: The art of listening

Music is the divine gift of God. Life is music. The different swaras are its ups and downs. It brings fortitude out of fear, happiness out of sorrow, joy out of misery. It was music, which gave rise to Nritya and of course, it was music which lit the lamp in the court of Emperor Akbar, when Tansen devoted himself to the Supreme Lord.

A raga is the art of expressing or stirring emotion. It brings out love in the Ganges, flowing through the mountains, nurturing you by her motherhood, while the different raga expresses the anger in Shiva, which burnt the God of love to ashes.

Music gave the courage to Lord Krishna himself when those little fingers played on the flute by the grace of Goddess Saraswati.

Thus, a musician brings out the compassionate excellence of music, encompassing one and all.

Our journey started on 25/9/2014 from Udupi Railway station by Okha Express at 6 a.m. along with five of my friends. Mridanee Shetty and Ujwal Shetty of class 8th, Veedal, Joyston, Maaz of class 10 accompanied by our teacher Mrs. Gretta Saldanha. This was one of the best trips of my life. On the way to Ahmedabad, we saw beautiful sceneries which were very delightful to watch. Many people around us were busy in their work. Some selling stuffs and some busy talking. It was very entertaining to watch. We made some friends on the train and enjoyed a lot with them. After 27 hours of journey we finally reached Ahmedabad, a city full of traffic. Then we checked into our rooms at Hotel Keshav. It was a beautiful hotel. We were very comfortable. I, Mridanee and Mam shared our rooms. We rested for a while, after our breakfast we went for sightseeing. First we visited Sabharmathi Ashram, Gandhi Sangrahalay. There we learnt about ‘Charaka’. There we got a lot of information about Gandhiji, his lifestyle, his movements and lot of other things. In Sangrahalay there were many books, lots of other things.

In Sangrahalay there were many pens, key chains, photos and other items of Gandhiji. Afterwards we visited Akshardhama Temple. We prayed to God and then visited one more Jain Temple. Next we went to see the birds and animals. There were variety of birds and animals. We were very much excited to see those.

Next day on 27th September we all attended “Be the Change” Conference held in EDI. It was like dream world when we entered inside the Institute. It was an International Conference. Kiran Bir Sethi is the founder of DFC and she was one of the Guest Speakers of the day. Here we gained a lot of information. Many projects were submitted under the DFC banner. 20 top projects were selected and honoured at this conference. They displayed the clippings of the winning projects. This gave us an idea how to change our society and to help others. We students had to attend different workshops. After the work shop we met together and exchanged what we learnt. My workshop was handed by Prathik Sethi. In this workshop each one had to think of themselves as super heroes and think what their power would be. Then our power was classified according to five elements - earth, universe, water, fire and land. My power was under earth. We had been divided into groups and had to prepare a chart in groups and present it before every one. After the workshop the lunch was provided to us and it was tasty. Later we had to learn dance. This was handled by Nirabi. It was very interesting to learn dance. In the evening we went shopping and returned to our rooms.

The day on 28th September was interesting. Many great personalities like Javid Jaffri, Hsing-Ho Chen had come on this occasion to share their experiences. Afterwards as usual we had to go our workshop. This time Hsing-Ho Chen led us, as he was specialised in juggling. He taught us to make juggling balls out of grains. We were classified into groups and each of us were given three packs full of grains and three socks. Hsing-Ho Chen explained how to put grains inside the socks and turn it carefully and preparing juggling ball out of it. I liked that process. Our colourful juggling balls were ready. Then we were taught juggling. He first showed his juggling then we juggled using one ball then with two and lastly with three. First I felt it difficult but then I understood it and felt easy. After the workshop we were provided with lunch. Later we had to give a surprise to our teacher by presenting the dance that we were taught on the previous day. Our teacher was surprised by it. The programme came to an end with the wonderful performance Dharavi teams which was delightful to watch. Finally, there was a performance by Hsing-Ho Chen which was wonderful. During the two days at conference we made many friends and spent memorable time with them.

The main motto of DFC was to inspire the people by the slogan “I can”, which says child can change the world based on his view of thinking. The main objective of this was to Feel, Imagine, Do and Share. We learnt so many things from this conference. On 29th September we boarded the train. We all friends together played Uno and enjoyed a lot. We also read some books and played many games in the train with our teacher. Finally, on 30th September we reached our homes.

The value of sports and Games

- Zion Mahima Siri, Class 9

All educationists agree that sports and games are really essential for true education. They develop the body and keep it fit and make a person look smart and active. So they are as necessary for a student as books are.

Games are the best means of recreation. An hour’s play in the evening removes all the dullness. They enable a man to work with renewed vigour. Games like cricket, hockey, football, badminton, volleyball are very rewarding as they stimulate physical and mental growth.

Sports and games being are important for success in life. They do not benefit the players only. They bring nations nearer and promote understanding between them.

Be the change

Maaz Ahmed, Class 10

Once upon a time a promising young lawyer from India embarked upon a journey to the Dark Continent which would later prove to be the making of the father of our Nation. While practicing there he came across the social evil of apartheid and empathized with the locals. He himself became the victim once when he was thrown out of a train carriage because of his complexion and in spite of carrying a first class ticket. He was Mahatma Gandhi, the man who inspired human rights movements worldwide all by dramatically living the simple non violent life he preached once said “you must be the change you want to see in this world.” We now see this quote everywhere; at churches and mosques, yoga centers, political rallies, on workshop flyers, and bumper stickers. But what does “be the change” mean? To be the change means to want, choose and commit your actions to do the right thing.

In order to do something, you have to want it. If you want something, you’ll endure all the struggles and pain that come with it. You are determined to reach your goal. A change can only happen if you want to see it happen, and the only change could happen is if you put your effort into it. The quote “if it’s to be, it’s up to me”, explains to us that too many people think that others such as leaders are supposed to be the change. It’s obvious that nothing is going to happen without you. You can choose to make a change or not. To take action or just sit there. But you know, at the end of the day, the choice was and is yours.

If you’re like me, you want something more than the average life, something deeper. We are all tired of the meaninglessness of this world: the superficial interactions, the conversations that don’t go anywhere, the love exchanges that could have been better. Mediocrity is everywhere, and it’s breaking our hearts. But what you may not realize is: the answer to the problem is within you. But it is never too late to correct the problem. Go ahead and make a difference. Be the change and let’s make this world a better place to live.
AN INDIAN SOLDIER

Prajwal Vinay Shetty, Class 10

An Indian soldier is famous for his valour and military genius. The Indians call him a Jawan. A Jawan is really the backbone of the Indian army. A soldier is the pride of nation. He defends the honour of his motherland with his life and blood.

He has to rise more superior to his family and his own self. His profession brings out the best in him chivalry, discipline, team spirit and loyalty.

We love the soldier as much as – if not more than the scholar, the statesmen and poet. The soldier embodies in himself the spirit of youth.

Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose lives in the memory of Indian youth much more perhaps than Tilak, Gandhi or Tagore. The great and glorious part he played in the INA movement will be cherished by generations to come.

The Indian soldier in the British days was a hired mercenary. Now he is a national soldier. There is no hard and fast line between the so-called martial and non-martial races in the Indian army today. The Indian soldier has earned a great applause during the last two World Wars.

Wars from the highest quarters. He is the finest specimen of humanity, be a Maratha, a Sikh or a Rajput. He is the best symbol of the secular character of our country.

The soldier in free India helps in many civilian jobs as well as locust-fighting, crop-cutting, bridge building, road making etc. He has more opportunities than even before of mixing with common people.

In the training centre, he gets basic military training like drill, physical training and weapon training. He is trained in range practices, bayonet-fighting and handling of explosives like grenades and mortars. Here we find the recruit in his gray uniform, heavy black boots, a jungle hat and a rifle slung over his shoulder. Every day he takes four hours training. There are occasional route-marches to maximum of 25 miles, negotiating a rope bridge is to walk upon a rope the ends of which are tied to the branches of two trees. And also he has to attend a special parade called as Kasam Parade. After all these trainings he is posted to a battalion or regiment.

The Indian soldier is famous for his high moral and high standard of discipline and for his matchless valour and great military genius. He is accustomed to a life of hardship and discipline. He guards our frontier. He defends our country. He saves us from the external aggression. In peace time, he does many a social service. In war-time he dedicates his life for his country and nation. Let us think, how much we are indebted to our sturdy Jawans.
Hunger is better than Slavery

A goat herd, gathering together his goats to return home saw some wild goats nearby. He encouraged them and soon they joined the herd looking for food. The goatherd knew that if he fed them until they were fat he could sell them at a good profit in the market.

Every day the goatherd fed the wild goats extra food which he kept for the rest of the goats. He treated the new comers just like princess. The other goats said this was unfair but the goatherd didn’t notice. After a few days indoors, due to bad weather, the sun shone and the goatherd let the goats out to graze. What a surprise!

The goat herd drove the goat towards the best pastures where he knew they would fatten much more quickly. The wild goats kept trailing behind but the goat herd drove them on, promising as much as food as they could eat. As soon as they reached the best pastures, the wild goats took to their heels and ran down a steep, rocky ravine. The goat herd could not follow but shouted for them to come back. The wild goats replied that they preferred their freedom and hunger to being kept in dark stable for days knowing that they would end up at the market.

Science behind Superstitious Beliefs

Ancient India was the place where great mathematicians were born. Different cultural arts originated, great Philosophers, Scientists and Artists were born. Ancient India was the time when superstitious beliefs also took with.

Today in India, even though technology has improved a lot, majority of the people in our country follow superstitious beliefs and they don’t want to know the Science behind it as these are followed by them since the time of Ancient India.

So here are some scientific explanations for the major superstitions.

1. Why don’t people trim their hair on Tuesday?

   Earlier most of the people were farmers. After a week of hard work, Monday was their resting day. Naturally majority of them cleaned their houses and trimmed their hair on that day. So the barbers would not have much work on Tuesdays and would close their shops. This practice is being continued till date.

2. Why should we eat on Banana Leaf?

   It is because it reduces the risk of kidney stones and helps in better digestion of food.

3. Why do people hang lemon and chillies in vehicles and outside shops?

   People say it scares off devils, but actually it scares off mosquito and other insects.

4. Why do we plant ‘Tulasi’ plants in front of the house?

   Since it provides more oxygen movement in the surrounding environment, people plant this Tulasi plants in front of their houses.

5. How ‘Astrology’ and future gazing is possible?

   The science behind this is, the present day DNA profiling can accurately show what we are going to do. The present day forensic science can help us a lot to know about our past. And this science has been passed on to us from those ancient times as Smrithi: the word of mouth education.

So there is science behind every superstitious belief and we only need to understand things in right perspective.
A CAMP TO COLOUR THE LIFE

As we hear the word 'camp', a word comes to my mind i.e. fun. I had the privilege of attending a unique “Citizenship Camp” for 3 days. The values they taught us will remain forever in my life. They taught us not only theoretically but practically, morally and creatively. We had many sessions and all were very interesting but some sessions were really very realistic which can be adopted in our daily life. I touched a snake (non-poisonous) which sent shiver down my spine and made me sweat. By the experience of touching a snake I understood the fact that snakes are feared by us, and our fears are baseless. At that time I overcame my fear about approaching snakes. At other sessions we came across 3 personalities, who were excellently remarkable in their fields. They had great capacity to transfer learning to us without a single mistake. They taught us in many ways, how to keep an answer of a question or to remember anything else in our mind for a long time without any confusion. They helped us to do so by means of picturization or by singing that incident or the answer. They inspired us in many ways. Then we were shown slides about the use of Ayurvedic medicines in many ailments. It was very interesting and informative. Then we had a talk on a very curious topic. “Should we believe in Blackart Blackmagic?” It told us about the strong belief that many people have in magic but not in basic science. It revealed all the secrets about how people become saints and show magic or how other people get fooled just because of some extra knowledge of science they have. All sessions were really fantastic and amazing. Besides this the Host school, Faculty, arrangement of food and other facilities were just unbeatable. We enjoyed a lot of games we played in the evenings. We even got an opportunity to cook food. They conducted a camp fire for all students to exhibit their talents. I sang a song with others in the group. In all, this Leadership Camp was successful in creating good citizens of the future generations. This camp totally helped the overall development of students and increased inter school partnership relations. I even missed my friends that I made in the camp but I am still happy that I have learnt something more of key to success for becoming a citizen and even helping others to be good to make this country a better place to live in. It is rightfully said “Tomorrows citizens are in Today’s classrooms”. I thank the organizers, Principal and Staff of Bhuvana Jyothi Residential School, Moodabidri for giving me and three of my classmates the opportunity to attend this “Citizenship Camp” which has really transformed my outlook of life.

A camp report by – Shrivasta – Class 10
“The day technology will surpass human interactions, we will have a generation of idiots” this wonderful quote by Albert Einstein rightly describes the present-day situation of teens round the world. Teenagers are becoming more tech-geeks and gizmo-addicted and the books are slowly slipping away from their hands.

A recent survey by a multinational educational organization has revealed that more than 89% of the surveyed teenagers would prefer to buy the latest video game than a collection of vintage books. Gadgets are acting as teen-magnets and are attracting the young minds towards it, away from the calm libraries. The heavy graphics of the violent games have an indeed negative effect on these building minds. These gadgets are even heavy on the pockets and parents have to shell out their hard-earned income for these seasonal or even monthly demands by their next generation.

This problem may also have arisen because, just a few decades ago, cool kids used to grasp a book or novel and show-off their knowledge in front of others. But alas! The definition of ‘cool’ has got changed. The students with books are ‘un cool’ and ‘nerdy’ whereas people with the newest gadgets are ‘cool’ and popular. People need to understand the world of books take us to, the divine enlightenment we get from books and the knowledge that gets embedded into us by reading books and most of all, the happiness.

Books are for sure, the best ‘present’ given to mankind by God. People need to understand that gizmos are good in small doses, as too much of anything is always harmful. So make yourself a cup of coffee, grab a great book and curl up spending the best times in another world, the world of books.
Global Terrorism
Bagged 3rd Place in AICS Literary Competition

Global Terrorism. The word, all by itself, can make us break into a cold sweat. When we listen to that word, the first thing that pops to our minds is that of a middle Eastern man, in the hot blooded youth phase of his life, thoroughly bound with a loaded Ak-47, showing off his excellent shooting skills to the terrified victims - cum-audience. But that is just a shallow view of the much deeper social evil. Terrorists are of all possible age groups, ethnicities, and exist in places ranging from the biggest metropolitans to the smallest slums. The word ‘terrorism’ directs a wave of fear into our hearts and why wouldn’t it when the word itself is picked into the English vocabulary from the Latin word ‘torero’ meaning ‘fear’?

So, what exactly is terrorism? Terrorism does not have any particular, global definition but it can be referred to as violence against civilians to create panic and fear. But what do they get by embossing panic and fear into the hearts of people, you ask? These activities may be done for several reasons like civil disorder. Sometimes the reasons can turn out to be very petty and foolish. The protests done and the illegal lambasting contribute generously to these kinds of terrorism. These kind of terrorist activities are not very destructive.

The ones which are actually destructive can be split into three basic categories as the political, quasi political and religious terrorist activities.

Political terrorism generally happen when the terrorists believe that the only ways their voice can reach the politicians are through bomb blasts and bullet shots. They are brought about to initiate changes in the political systems and policies.

Quasi terrorism is the use of terrorist tactics for personal gain or benefit.

The third and the most common one is the religious terrorism it is torturing and killing others to preach their own religion. But the question remains that, when the main essence of all the religion is to live in peace and harmony with fellow earthlings, doesn’t practicing these ill activities defy their own religion?
Whatever the form of terrorism is and however large the destruction scale is, it is just a giant blank spot on the name of humanity. Most of the terrorists don’t even know why they are doing it. They are doing it because the only thing they are taught from birth is to KILL. They are taught that taking other’s life is more important than living their own lives. Their definition of happiness is seeing innocent, young children dead on the road, women covered in blood and mothers waiting at their departed children.

There are innumerable terrorist activities registered in the dark files of our mind like the 11/9 incident in USA, initiated by Al Quida and the Mumbai incident, closer back home. Just the thought of these incidents can make a chill run down our spine. And imagining how it feels to be there is just next to impossible.

So what do we do about these devils? If we stay mum about the incident, it sends a wrong signal to the terrorists to continue their work. If they have their guns as weapons we have a stronger weapon with us, our voice. We must raise our voice on behalf of all those who were silenced by guns. Only then we can dream of terrorism - free world.

How Important Are Moral Values in The Present Society

1st Place – English Elocution

By Nisha Fernandes, Class 10

At the onset, the question that comes to one’s mind is “why do we need moral value?” Infact! “What is a Moral Value?” Moral Values are something that shapes us. That shapes our character and character is something which is really important for each and every person. As per the saying,

If wealth is lost, then nothing is lost.
If health is lost, something is lost,
If character is lost everything is lost.

And who shapes the character? It is the moral values. In the present society of our’s we come across different attractions, bad as well as good for which we need the power to differentiate. And do you know who gives us this power? Again the same answer- “Moral Values”. But now people have completely forgotten about moral values. If you start thinking about society, the common things that start coming to your minds are nothing but - Murder, Kidnapping, Harassment, Robbery and what not? And why all these? The answer is simple - “Lack of moral values”. People don’t think twice to put their own parents out of the house. And now you think a person who cannot take care about his own parents, what will he contribute to the society?

Yes friends, all these are the facts. Moral values are just not measured now. It has only remained as two common words that’s it.

To understand clearly let us take two common examples, you organize a great party at home, and call the whole society for the lunch. You will find that all the people, from each and every house will be present. Because after all its lunch right! Later call the same people, from the same society to donate their blood for the needy and now you see, not even half the people who ran marathon to have lunch will be present there. Reason? Lack of moral values.

So friends, do you still ask me “How important are moral values in the present society?”

Then here is my answer
How important rain is to the crops
How important a doctor is to a patient
How important a teacher is to a student
How important a mother is to a child

That important, Moral values are for the present society!!!!

नैतिक मूल्य

नैतिक मूल्य। एक तरह भारतीय संस्कृति की पहचान पुरावं में विवाद में मिली अभावों धरोहर हैं ये।

सम्पूर्ण विश्व में भारत की पहचान का प्रतिक “नैतिकता” लेकिन कहते हुए, बेहद अफसोस होता है, की आज की हमारी नई एवं आधुनिक पीढ़ी जिसमें भी आता हैं, इस वेशकेती धरोहर को खोलें जा रहे हैं।

युवाओं का रूप और रूह व्यवहार बड़ों के प्रति अनादर, कुल, मनमानी यह सब दशाता है कि युवाओं में नैतिक मूल्यों का स्तर कम हद तक गिर चुका है। और किंतु अजीब बात है, यह सब कुछ दशकों के छोटे में अंतराल में हुआ है।

आज से कुछ दशक पूरव, अपने बड़ों का आदर करना, उन्हें उचित प्रेम देना कर्वव भाना जाती था, लोग मिलनसार थे, रिश्तों में गर्नाहट थी, किन्तु यह कहते हुए भी लज़ आती है के जिन बूढ़े माँ - बाप ने पाल पेश कर चढ़ा विवाह वही माँ - बाप आज बड़ी एवं बाच्चे पर धार्मिक में युवा इतने ध्यान मन है कि मेल मिलाने के लिए कभी भी कहा है और रिश्ते का आजकल फेमसुक पर बनते हैं तो गर्मजोशी का कोई सवाल ही नहीं उठता।

संवेदनशीलता की हद तो इस बात से आंकी जा सकती है की सड़क पर टड़पते हुए घायल की जान व्यवहार के बजार हमारे युवा इसकी दर्दनाक तस्वीर अपने स्वार्थ फोन के केमरे में कैद करने को ज्यादा प्राकृतिकता देते हैं, ताकि उसे फेमसुक पर अपलोड कर सकें और चाहके के चुने संवेदनशीलता का स्वाग गाते हुए बड़ी पुरानी से उस पर लाइक और कमेंट करते हैं।

छोटी सी उम्र में ही युवा वह सबकुछ करना चाहते ही, वह सबकुछ पाना चाहते हैं जो ना ही उनके लिए उचित है और ना ही उसके अभी चक्कर आया है।

धृष्टपण, शराब, पिसा, अप्रभावी सबकुछ और वह भी शाषकों से। ऐसे आगामी के प्रभाव इसी कि जब अपने किसी जीवन का सहभागी से पृथक हूँ “तुभारा सपना क्या है?” तो हर बार जवाब मिलता है “पिसा” जैसे जीवन में सबकुछ पिसा ही हो, इसके लिए कुछ भी कर गुज़रने की लज़ उनके चेहरों पर साफ झलकती है।

ना जाने कितने ऐसे उदाहरण हैं जो रोज अखिल रंग में स्फोट हो और हमारे आस पास परिचित होते हैं जो दर्शाते हैं कि युवा किस हद तक खुद की भूला चुके हैं गिर चुके हैं, और सबसे ज्यादा तकलीफ़ तो इस बात की होती है कि न ही उन्हें भानक है और न ही अफसोस, मदहाशिओं और मदसमियों में वे चले जा रहे हैं किसी पागल हार्दिक की तरह अपने रात में आते वाली हर चीज़ को चेताते कुछते हुए वे आममानो में उड़ रहे हैं इस बात से वेश्य है कि जब ज़मीन पर निरंगे तो क्या होगा। उस दिन विश्वास के सभी सीनियर छात्र “साइकिल ही” के लिए युवा एकत्र हुए थे, जाहिर सह बात है वहाँ शिक्षक भी मौजूद थे, माहील खुशनुमा था, अधानवक विश्वास का एक पूर्व
हाँ अपनी महसूस का आदर्श है और उसे देखते ही बदली जाती है क्योंकि इस छोटी बातों से झगड़ा शुरू करता है और जब वह उपस्थित विषय बारे करते हैं तो बड़ा वोलंद आवाज में बेहद तुच्च और निश्चित तरीके की गालियाँ जिनका निकट वहाँ नहीं किया जा सकता देने के लिए उसके बेहद पर ऐसे भाव उभरते हैं जैसे ओलिफिक में स्वर्ण पदक जीता हो।

ना जाने क्या मनुष्य करना चाहता था वह? और ना जाने क्या पात्र होगा उसे अपने ही शिक्षकों का अभाव करके? शायद अभिमान हुआ होगा अपनी दंगाई पर। असल में वह इस बात से किसना अनमिला था कि वह “दंगाई” नहीं अपनी अविद्या और असभ्यता का प्रदर्शन भरी सबक में कर रहा था कैसी विद्वाना है वह? जिस भौमि पर “मयादा फूलपोतम” श्री राम और अजुन जेने “महान शिष्य” का जन्म उस ही धरा पर आज हर दूसरे श्रद्धांजलि लांगी जा रही है, आज दिन गुरुओं को अभावित किया जाता है, कितना उभारकियूर्ण है यह सब कहते हैं।

“असफलता तभी आती है जब हम अपने आदर्श, उद्देश्य और मिलें भूल जाते हैं”

और कहना शुष्क तो देखिये हमारे आज के युवाओं को तो “आदर्श” “उद्देश्य” और “सिद्धांत” का पत्तन भी ज्ञान नहीं और उसकी इस ही अनैतिकता के चक्करे हर रोज जमा पतन की नई गहराईयाँ नाप रहा है।

वह जो-जोर से चहरों तरफ गिरते नैतिक मूल्यों का चर्चा होता है गीताओं में टेलिविजन पर अखबारों में बड़े - बड़े विद्वान, प्रवक्त, प्रज्ञा व प्राणज्ञ ज्ञान का व्याख्या लगते हैं, चिंत जताते हैं और धर चले जाने है।

वाह! क्या वात है?

आज तक सभी ने विचार ही किया लेकिन इस दिशा में कोई सार्वजनिक कदम नहीं उठाया। अगर इमानदारी से सोची तो पाएंगे कि इस महान समय को फेल नहीं देने कोई और नहीं अपितु हमारे बड़े ही हैं समाज में पिता नैतिकता के लक्षण पतन का ही नहीं बल्कि बड़ों की असफलता का भी प्रतीक है, असफलता विधि की सवालों कीमती धरोहर अपनी नयी पीढ़ी को ना दे पाने की।

अपने बच्चों को अच्छे संशोधन और शिक्षा देने के बजाय उनके हाथों में लैपटॉप और इंटरनेट धमा दिए, जरा बड़े हुए नहीं के महसूस गोवाल और गाओं दिला दी और समझा लिए कि हमने हमारा फर्ज पूरा कर दिया।

एक बच्चा के गाज़ की तरह होता है और उस कागज पर नैतिक मूल्यों और अच्छी आदर्शों की तहरीर लिखना माता पिता का फर्ज पर माता - पिता अपनी मिली जिन्दगीों में ही इतने व्यस्त हो गए कि ये भूले ही गए कि वे किसी के माता पिता भी हैं, अपनी व्यस्तताओं से इस बात का ध्यान लेना नहीं रहा कि उनके बच्चों की देश की अगली पीढ़ी की अगली जुत्तत क्या है?

कल गाज की कामना युवाओं के हाथों में होनी क्या संभालने के देश को उसे धूर ही को नहीं समाल सकते गहरी नींद से जाना का बक्क अब आ चुका है जुत्तत है उयुवाओं पर दोष मढ़ने के बजाय बड़े इस और कुछ साधक कदम उठाने ज्ञानों से ज्ञान बक्क अपने बच्चों के साथ युवाओं के साथ योग्यता करने उन्हें उचित मार्गदर्शन दे देश के सांगकृतिक गीति से अवगत
ये गुलशन वीराग हो जाएगा यूं ही बैठें हो तुम इंतजार में ही पूरा शहर ही शामिल हो जाएगा कब तक तुम रहोंगे उनके भरोसे जो करते प्रित्य खुद भी रहने प्रित्य तोड़ो भरोसे को और आगे बढ़ो तुम ये गुलशन गुलजार हो जावेगा

Unforgettable Moments in Scotland

- Report by Kaavya J. Athikari, class 9

"Have a happy and safe journey". Enjoy, "Have a wonderful time". With all these best wishes we boarded the plane to Glasgow, Scotland on 27th September 2014.

Along with Prachi and Seema Miss, I was looking forward excitedly to this trip. It took us almost 24 hours to reach Glasgow, a beautiful place where people lived in harmony. We met Mr. Jim McDougall who took us to the Glasgow Guest House.

The guest house turned out to be a beautiful self-contained flat. At midnight, we had our Devil Dinner - Maggi. In the beginning of the journey we were advised to take some packets of magi for Indian taste, but it turned out to be our life-saver. Next morning, with Mr. Jim we visited Largs - a popular seaside resort which took an hour to reach. Later, we had a tour around the highlands and at night we attended a small get-together in the church.

'Welcome to Hutchesons'!! on the second morning, we were taken to the Hutchesons school, a lovely student-friendly building where learning was a joy. After attending a charity assembly we were taken on a tour of the school with the school Head Boy and the Head Girl. Meeting students and attending classes were fun. In the evening we went sledging at Intu Soar an indoor ski-slope and leisure centre and spent time with J8 pupils. Playing with snow (even if artificial) was an amazing experience.

On 1st October Seema Miss, Prachi and I formally introduced in the school assembly. We gave a short talk about our school Nitte and also our project. We were taken to Edinburgh by train, a tour of Scottish Parliament and other places of interest in the capital and met their Minister (Deputy). The evening meal with Craig and friends was awesome as we were served Indian food there. What a relief!!

The next day it was a normal assembly. I was happy to perform the Bharatnatyam dance. After the classroom visits we were off to the Hutchies Primary School. The kids were very adorable. One among them was Richa Nayak, a girl from Karkala and guess what! She spoke Konkani. Though I couldn't understand Prachi made it clear to me. After this visit, we freshened and went to the theatre with the Drama class. The play was “The Three Sisters”.

The following day we met all the Hutchie staff. Then we went to the Gurudwara with Mrs. Manjit Jheeta. The Langar was our favourite place; we got 'GHEE' there. Then we went to a movie with 38 pupils while Seema Miss had an evening with Mr. and Mrs. Clarke.

It was scheduled for us to attend model UN Conference on 4th October. It was very interesting. Then we went to a Museum and at night to the Dashing White Sergeant with pupils who were to visit India later. I loved their cute steps and enjoyed every bit of it.

Visiting the church made half of the next day. The other half was made awesome by visit to Jim’s house and then to Kirsty Griffiths place. Tired, at night we went off to sleep with the excitement for the shopping scheduled for the next day. Visited classes in the morning and then we went on shopping the rest of the day with Mrs. Jheeta. We bought lots of chocolates, gifts and souvenirs for ourselves, family, friends and relatives. Later, meal at Mrs. Manjit’s was the best part since she herself cooked delicious ‘Indian Food’ especially for us. Her husband and her best friend Neeta made us feel very comfortable. Later we had to say bye to them as we had to pack our luggage for the next day departure.

The last half day in Glasgow: farewell was arranged after a very interesting Kathakali class in the Drama building. Gifts were exchanged and we bid good bye to everyone. Mr. Clarke dropped us to the Airport.

Back to India...!!!

We were really in no mood to leave that very beautiful country but, I missed my ‘Daily Soaps’ a lot!! So, being in India... is the best for me...!!!

Make the Ordinary Come Alive

Do not ask your children to Strive for extraordinary lives,
Such striving may seem admirable,
But it is a way of foolishness.
Help them instead to find the wonder and the marvel of an ordinary life.
Show them the joy of tasting mangoes, apples and grapes.
Show them how to cry when pets and people die.
Show them the infinite pleasure in the touch of a hand.
And make the ordinary come alive for them.
The extraordinary will take care of itself.

HEALTH HAZARDS OF SOFT DRINKS

Collected by Sharanya R. Bangera, Class 10

Look at the wrapper on a Coca-Cola 1.5 liters bottle and in the ingredients you will find phosphoric acid in it. Minute quantities of ethylene glycol is also used (which is acknowledged in the soft drink world for making it "really chill").

This is popularly known as antifreeze which prevents water from freezing at 0°C and instead drops it by 4.5 °C with minute quantities. This chemical is a known slow poison in the caliber of arsenic. So, if you manage to drink about 4 litres of coke within an hour or so you can die. Read along and give up these dangerous things. Be natural; have flavoured milk and tender coconuts, butter milk, lassi and plain water instead of these cold drinks.

Guess what’s the pH for soft drinks? Eg: coke? pH 3.4. this acidity is strong enough to dissolve teeth bones. Our human body stops building bones at the age of about 30. Soft drinks do not have any nutrition value (in terms of vitamins and minerals). It is high in sugar content, carbonic acid chemicals i.e. colourings etc. some like to take cold soft drinks after each meal. Guess what’s the impact? Our body needs an optimum temperature of 37°C this will dilute the enzymes and stress, the digestive system. The food taken will not be digested. In fact it will be fermented. The fermented food produces gases, decays and becomes toxin, gets absorbed by the intestine, circulates in the blood stream and is carried to the whole body/hence toxin is accumulated in other parts of the body, developing into various diseases. Think before you drink coke/Pepsi or any other soft drinks again have you ever thought what you drink an acidated drink and you gulp down CO2, when nobody in the world would advise you to drink CO2.

Two months back there was a competition at Delhi University who could drink the most coke? The winner drank 8 bottles and fainted on the spot because of too much CO2 in the blood. Thereafter, the Principal banned all soft drink from the college canteen. Did you know that soft drink use chemicals in them that cause immense harm to you? Someone put a broken tooth in a bottle of pepsi and in 10 days it dissolved? Can you believe it? Teeth and bones are the only human parts that stay intact for years after death. Imagine what the drink must be doing to your soft intestines and stomach lining.

In India, people hesitate to pay ¹ 5/- for a tender coconut but prefer to pay ¹ .10/- and drink this dreadful product. So friends please think twice before you drink soft drinks.
